Advice on legal assistance:

uni-assist has evaluated your documents solely for the purpose of your application to the specific degree programmes for which you applied. The results of our evaluation may therefore vary in the case of further applications to different universities or for different degree programmes.

uni-assist has carried out the evaluation of your documents with the greatest possible care. If, however, you should notice any errors or suspect that your mark has not been converted correctly, then please inform us of this as soon as possible in writing (but at least within 4 weeks of receiving the Evaluation Report). uni-assist will then double-check the results of our evaluation.

Information on various grading systems is available on www.anabin.kmk.org, the website of the "Zentralstelle für ausländisches Bildungswesen - ZAB" (Central Office for Foreign Education). The standard grading systems for secondary schools and universities in many countries can be found via the link "Bildungswesen" in the menu on the left-hand side of the page. Please note that the website does not provide information about every grading system used in every country. Some secondary schools or universities use their own individual grading systems.

For the conversion of your grade into the German grading system you must know the highest possible mark, (Nmax), and the lowest pass mark, (Nmin), applicable in the country or institution in which you completed your qualification. The relevant mark for the (Nmin) is the lowest passing mark required for the degree to be awarded and not the lowest passing mark in any individual course or subject. In addition you will require the average mark which you obtained (Nd). In most cases a formula known as the "Modifizierte Bayerische Formel" will be used to convert your grade into the German system. Conversion of marks according to the "Modifizierte Bayerische Formel"

The "Modifizierte Bayerische Formel" is not used in cases where the ZAB recommends a different conversion system.
