Being his Biology teacher in the 11th and 12th grade, I have witnessed several examples of his talent and his overall growth both as a student and as a blooming young adult. He is unquestionably one of the good students in the class and his work consistently reflects a level of insightfulness & attention to detail that is unique to him. He is indeed very enthusiastic and exhibits efficiency in his work.

He is an active member of class discussions. Humaid has never backed down from an opportunity to take part in extracurricular activities and has made valuable contributions in school assemblies, school fete and organizing bulletin boards etc. As a person, he is also very earnest, hardworking, and zealous. He finds a fine balance between his academics and co-curricular activities.

I wish Humaid all the best for his future endeavors. He will surely be an asset to your meritorious institution
